

THE DANGER OF CHANCE

Alarming datum and detection of gambling

WHAT IS GAMBLING?

Gambling is the addiction to games of chance with economical reward. It is also a dependence disorder that impacts negatively in the personal, academic and professional relations of the person who suffers it.

Percentage of students of ESO (14-18 years old) that have received formation in their school about the effects and problems associated with gambling (%). Spain, 2016.

DETECTION

1. Concern about the game
2. Need of playing with an increasing amount of money in order to achieve excitement
3. Constant failures in efforts to control the game
4. Anxiety and irritability when it is tried to stop the game
5. Use gambling as a way to escape of personal problems or to relief emotional discomfort
6. Repeated efforts to recover the lost money
7. Lies to the family and therapists about the implication in game
8. Endanger or loss of significant personal and professional relations and education opportunities
9. Constant economical support from family and friends

REFERENCES

American Psychiatric Association (2000). Diagnostic and Statistical manual of mental disorders (4th edition). Washington, United States: (APA)

Ministerio de sanidad, consumo y bienestar social (2018). Encuesta sobre uso de drogas en enseñanzas secundarias en España (ESTUDE) 1994-2016. Recovered from

